Further wishes

I. Loan brokerage and follow-up support

1. I/we hereby instruct the intermediary with the brokerage of a loan for real estate financing, as well as related financial services and support during the disbursement of this loan.
2. I/we authorize the intermediary to forward all documents required for this purpose (loan application, property and creditworthiness documents, etc.) to a lender intended for financing, to obtain condition offers from the lender, and to receive all correspondence connected with the financing on my/our behalf.
3. I/we hereby authorize the intermediary to receive a loan contract offer from the financing lender for forwarding to me/us. I/we know that a binding loan approval can only be given by a lender itself and that loan approvals from lenders can be revoked at any time, especially if discrepancies from the information provided by me/us become apparent.
4. I/we assure that no compulsory measures (e.g. wage garnishment, forced auction, insolvency proceedings) have previously been initiated against me/us. I/we have always properly met my/our payment obligations in the past.
5. I/we act in my/our own economic interest and not at the request of a third party (in particular not as a trustee).
6. I/we assure that all of the above information has been provided to the best of my/our knowledge, completely and truthfully. Incorrect information may, where applicable, lead to termination of the contract.

II. Data protection information concerning credit agencies

Data transmission to SCHUFA and release from banking secrecy:

The contractual partner (lender/bank/savings bank) transmits personal data collected in the context of this contractual relationship regarding the application for, performance of, and termination of this business relationship, as well as data on non-contractual or fraudulent conduct, to SCHUFA Holding AG, Kormoranweg 5, 65201 Wiesbaden. The legal bases for these transmissions are Article 6(1)(b) and Article 6(1)(f) of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Transmissions on the basis of Article 6(1)(f) GDPR may only take place insofar as this is necessary to safeguard legitimate interests of the bank/savings bank or third parties and the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject requiring protection of personal data do not prevail.

The exchange of data with SCHUFA also serves to fulfill statutory obligations to conduct creditworthiness checks on customers (Sections 505a of the German Civil Code and 18a of the German Banking Act).

To this extent, the customer also releases the contractual partner from banking secrecy.

SCHUFA processes the data received and also uses it for profiling (scoring) in order to provide its contractual partners in the European Economic Area and Switzerland, and where applicable in other third countries (provided an adequacy decision of the European Commission exists for them or standard contractual clauses have been agreed, which can be viewed at www.schufa.de), with information including information for assessing the creditworthiness of natural persons. Further information on SCHUFA's activities can be found in the SCHUFA information sheet pursuant to Art. 14 GDPR or online at www.schufa.de/datenschutz.

Data transmission to Creditreform for freelancers and self-employed persons:

In connection with the application for creditworthiness-related services, the lender transmits data (name, address, date of birth, if applicable previous address, and reason for inquiry) to the business credit agency Creditreform for the purpose of the creditworthiness check. The legal bases for these data transmissions are Art. 6(1)(b) and Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR. Transmissions on the basis of Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR may only take place insofar as this is necessary to safeguard legitimate interests of the lenders or third parties and the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject requiring protection of personal data do not prevail. The exchange of data with Creditreform also serves to fulfill statutory obligations to conduct creditworthiness checks on customers (Section 505a of the German Civil Code and Section 18a of the German Banking Act). To this extent, the customer also releases the lender from banking secrecy. The information held by Creditreform is transmitted to the lender. Creditreform will not separately notify the customer again about the data transmission to the lender. Information about the data stored concerning the customer's own person, which Creditreform passes on to its affiliated companies for assessing creditworthiness, may be requested from Creditreform at any time. Creditreform provides the data to its contractual partners only if they credibly demonstrate a legitimate interest in the data transmission in the individual case. The transmitted data is processed and used exclusively for this purpose.

Further information on data processing at Creditreform is available at <https://www.creditreform.de/EU-DSGVO/>.

III. Data protection information regarding the processing of your financing inquiry

For the processing of your financing inquiry, the data will be processed by your customer advisor and by other companies involved in the brokerage, including the EUROPACE platform. For this purpose, your contact person has provided you with the corresponding data protection notices of the companies involved. If this is not the case, please contact him!

IV. Duty to cooperate - tax identification number (tax ID)

1. I/we know that pursuant to Section 154(2a) of the German Fiscal Code I/we am/are obliged to disclose my/our tax identification number.
2. If the tax ID has not been communicated by the time the contract is concluded, please notify the relevant credit institution of it in writing no later than 14 days after conclusion of the contract (duty to cooperate).
3. Since 01.01.2018, credit institutions have been legally obliged to collect and record the tax ID for every account holder and every other authorized signatory.
4. If the duty to cooperate is disregarded, the bank must request the tax ID from the Federal Central Tax Office (BZSt) by means of the automated inquiry procedure. In the event of insufficient cooperation, the credit institution is obliged to record this and notify the BZSt.

V. Notice on use of the automated land register retrieval procedure

The lender may use the automated procedure for transmitting data from the electronically maintained land register for checking loan applications. This also applies to the transmission of requests for information from the land register pursuant to Section 133(4) of the Land Register Code. The lender may use the transmitted data only if the customer is already a (co-)owner or holder of a heritable building right for the affected property. The data use refers to all land registers in which the customer is or will be entered as (co-)owner or holder of a heritable building right.

Consultation

Yes, I would like to receive advice and written documentation.

No, I do not want to receive advice.

By my/our signature, I/we agree to the above assurances and to the use of the automated land register retrieval procedure (Section V). We have acknowledged the data protection notices of the credit agencies.
